Amazing opportunity for extremely cheap office space that will help South Street Arts Centre

If you are looking for a cost effective way to develop you or your business away from your dining room table, a larger business searching for an affordable way to expand, or looking to save on your overheads by sharing office space, South Street Arts Centre can help.

Situated close to the centre of Reading, South Street Arts Centre offers you a permanent desk, wireless access and a kitchen and a small amount of storage space. You would be sharing an office with a dynamic group of exciting small businesses and individuals in a unique creative environment.

South Street rate per year for desk space is only £500. This would give you access 5 days a week from 10am – 5pm. But if that is too much, how about sharing a desk and splitting the cost?

If you, or anyone else you know is interested, please call Edmund Harcourt on 07968 439 810 or email ed@hogarthproductions.co.uk We are trying to find ways in which we can make the space work for you, so we encourage you to get in touch and talk through your needs to see if we can accommodate them.

Using desk space at the centre will not only create an income stream for South Street in the light of recent budget cuts, but it is an opportunity for a number of innovative, exciting and creative individuals to work and develop from the same space

Help you and your business and help South Street by moving in!
